Mamluk Mosque - Beit Lid

Beit Lid was famous for many scholars of jurisprudence in the Islamic periods, including Abdullah bin Amr bin Majali bin Abdul Hafiz, who died in 798 AH., and Abdullah bin Muhammad bin Yahya bin Othman bin Issa, who died in 840 AH. There is a mosque in the center of the town, dating back to the Mamluk period. Its age is estimated to be more than 750 years. It is built of stone, and at its entrance (a triple arch), has a founding inscription showing the date of its construction at the end of the Mamluk period, and the beginning of the Ottoman period. This mosque is distinguished by architectural and decorative elements, in addition to plant elements in its decoration.
