The Stadium

Site description: It is in the northeastern part of the city in the valley area at the bottom of the hill, with a size of 230 x 60 m. Partial excavations were carried out at the site, which resulted in the discovery of some columns still standing among the olive groves. However, the excavations still needed to be completed. Therefore, the stadium wasn't ultimately revealed. It was dedicated to various sports, such as horse racing, jogging, discus throws and arrows, and other sports during seasonal celebrations, especially according to Roman traditions.
